L. P. FISHER, Advertising Agent, 21 Merchants Exchange, San Francisco, is authorised to receive advertisements for the columns of this paper.

A STARTLING ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Attorney General has surprised the House and shocked the country by the statement that 4400 tons of cement are still required to complete the graving dock. Two years ago the same hon. gentleman imformed the House that only 100 tons would be required for the purpose. He now says that he made the first statement on the authority of the resident engineer and that he makes the second statement upon the same authority. The matter will come before a select committee of the House to-day and the engineer will be afforded an opportunity of explaining how he came to make a blunder that will cost the province $200,000 at least; and the government will be allowed to explain why they have not dispensed with his services. The dock in the hands of the present government will cost at least $1,000,000, $500,000 of which will have to be found by the province. The committee will thoroughly probe the whole matter.

TARIFF CHANGES.

Our exclusive telegram from Ottawa on Saturday informed the public of a number of important changes in the tariff; foremost among which, in their relation to this Province, is the transference to the free list of spelter in blocks and pigs; tin in blocks, pigs, bars, plated and sheet; zinc in pigs, block and sheets. This is a most important success to the fish-canning interest. Heretofore, while drawbacks were provided the vexation and delay experienced in securing a refund for duty paid have been almost as much as the drawback came to. The change will be a great relief to the canners and will impart a needed impetus to that growing industry.

Public Schools Report.

Numbers of school district, 48. Total cost for the year ending 30th June, 1881, $49,846.07. Cost of each pupil enrolled, $19.38 and on the average daily attendance, $36.46, being more than for the previous year by 29 cents, and 13 cents per head respectively. Number of pupils enrolled during the year 2571, an increase of 109. Boys, 1441; girls, 1130. Average attendance, 1366.86. Percentage attendance in the public schools, 53.1. There are 58 teachers employed in all the school, their salaries amounting to $41,169.35, being an average of $60.54 per annum. The highest salary paid $110 (one only) per month, and the lowest $45 (one only). Incidental expenses, $3584.57. Total value of school property, $84,360.

Of the 15 petitions sent in for new districts from September, 1878, to January, 1st, 1881, two were refused, four entertained and districts formed and nine are still looked upon as being in abeyance. Some of them have been in abeyance since January, 1879, three years. Those nine petitions represent 216 children of school age, an average of 24 for each petitioned-for district. Four of those petitions emanated from the New Westminster district, representing 97 children of school age. And yet the superintendent of education says one page further on in the report "that the supply (of schools) so far has been ahead of what was absolutely needed." Ten of the public schools, or more than 20 per cent. of the whole number, were not inspected during the year, nor have they been visited by the present superintendent since he took office, three years ago. Of these schools marked as "inspected," with three or four exceptions, nothing whatever is said of the method of tuition adopted or the progress made.

Parts II and III of the report contains the usual tables and appendices.

One looks in vain through the 75 pages of matter of which the the report is composed for a suggestion or recommendation of any sort for the improvement of existinfi schools or the establishment of new ones. We shall return to this report at an early date.

The Chief Commissioner's Report.

This report only occupies about 20 pages of printed matter as against from 150 to 200 pages compiled by his predecessors. Reference is made to the new home for convalescents and improvements at the public schools buildings in this city. Repairs to Government House are enumerated, even to the taking up and laying down again of the old carpets. Nothing is said, however, about the cost of those repairs, while the amount expended on other works is carefully enumerated. This paragraph is evidently intended to convey the impression that Government House has been thoroughly repaired, renovated and made quite ready for occupation by the new Lieut.-Governor, while the very reverse is the fact. On drydock construction Mr. Bennett reports the payment of $34,482.97 up to 7th Nov., 1881. The following is a summary of land returns, pre-emption records 85; certificates of improvement, 55; certificates of purchase, 205; crown grants, 111. Total acreage deeded 23,141.

Registrar General's Report.

This report shows the registration of 263 births, against 223 for the year 1879; of 94 marriages, against 135 for 1879; and of 170 deaths against 134 for 1879, making an aggregate total of 527 registrations for 1880, against 492 for 1879, and being an increase of 25 registrations in favor of 1880. Of births this city registered 155, all the rest of the province 158. Marriages, Victoria, 40, in other parts of the province 55. Of the total number of marriages registered 84 were by license, 9 by banns and 1 by civil contract. The age of the eldest bride was returned at 47 years and the youngest at 14 years. The age of the eldest bridegroom was returned at 59 years, and the youngest at 20 years. Deaths, Victoria, 94, remainder of the province, 76.

List of Voters Report.

This report makes the voting power of the Province 4766, divided as follows:—Victoria, 1093; Esquimalt, 176; Victoria District, 264; Nanaimo, 553; New Westminster city, 257; New Westminster district, 704; Yale, 510; Lillooet, 190; Cariboo, 135; Kootenay, 30; Cowichan, 243; Comox, 99.

Printing Office Report.

This report shows that 436 jobs have been done during the year 1881. Number of pages of type set, 1605, of which 463 were tabular work, increasing the total number of pages to 2068. The number of impressions was 216,185. About 79,000 tax receipts were also numbered. The office cost for the year $7217.23, of which $1381.29 was for printing material, paper, etc., and the balance of $5835.94 for salaries. Sale of statutes brought in the enormous sum of $54.50. It would be interesting to know what the sale of other documents produced, but that item is conveniently lumped with advertising in the Gazette, etc., $378.30. Advertising delinquent tax lists added $90.25 to the above, making a total receipt of $523.05.

Mining Report.

In the yield of gold Cariboo is believed to have produced $655,737, which includes an estimated $45,000 for Omineca; Cassiar, $198,900; Lillooet, $40,717; Clinton, $25,730; Yale, $3,000; Kootenay sends no returns. The above amounts foot up about $925,000. Of coal the output was 228,357 tons with but one fatal accident and 11 non-fatal ones, as against three fatal and 13 non-fatal for the year preceding. In the Nanaimo collieries 190 whites, 65 Chinese and 17 Indians were employed. Total 272. The value of plant in these collieries is estimated at $115,000. At the Wellington collories 261 whites, and 286 Chinese were employed. Total, 547. Value of plant, $245,000.

THE "ROBERT MANN" AXE.

Everyone has heard of the axe factory at Mill Hall, but few are aware of the extent, process and history of the business and of its great benefit to the entire community. It is now about thirty-three years since the "Robert Mann Axe" was made at Mill Hall; but it is more than three-quarters of a century ago since Wm. Mann, Sr., offered the first Mann axe to the world. The first factory was erected by Saul McCormick, who in connection with Mr. Mann conducted the business until the time of the former's death in 1857. After Mr. McCormick's death the property was purchased by Mr. Mann, and enlarged from time to time, until from the small beginning of about twenty axes per day the trade and reputation were increased to over 400 axes per day in 1875. Since that time further additions have been made and in 1880 a complete new factory was erected below Mill Hall. The Mann family are now the most extensive manufacturers of axes in the world, making at their factories about 2800 axes per day, or 840,000 per year, and their trade and reputation extends around the world. The success of the Mann axe is due to close attention to the business and constant care to keep their goods up to the highest point of excellence.—Philadelphia Republican.—Fellows & Prior, Sole Agent for British Columbia. *

A Question Never Asked Me.

MR. GILMORE:—What class of work are you making at your store on Johnson street?

Everybody knows that I am a Merchant Tailor and have always done the principal business of that kind in this Province since June, '58, and that I now employ more white labor and pay more wages in one month which goes to the support of respectable white families, than all the Chinese slop factory stores in the country do in one year. I manufacture my own goods and pay my own cash. There is no company's key to lock my door and keep honest men from collecting what justly belongs to them. I can manufacture goods cheaper and sell cheaper than any store in Victoria. Therefore, I invite my old customers and the public generally to encourage white labor and go to A. Gilmore, Johnson street. Good and cheap goods for all.

BRITISH COLUMBIA BOOT AND SHOE STORE.—Mr. H. Mansell's reason for adopting for his establishment the title of "British Columbia Boot and Shoe Store" is to prevent error in the delivery of letters. Beacon Light Coal Oil.

We claim this oil to be the best in the market. The manufacturer has made it his specialty, and it is not compounded of any mixtures but is picked from the BEST WELLS in Pennsylvania, the same as a miller picks his grain. It is therefore a finer article than the production of the average run of oil works. THESE ARE FACTS, and an examination and use of the oil will PROVE all we claim for it. The demand for the oil is increasing daily. Parties who bought one case for trial have bought again in ten and twenty case lots. Every one should use it because no special burner is required for the Beacon Light, as it burns well in any lamp designed for petroleum. It is conceded that in the manufacture of the Beacon Light all the objectionable features of petroleum have been overcome and a White, Water Color Oil is given the consumer. It produces a brilliant light, free from smoke and smell, and in point of economy it is unequalled by any other, and is the best oil for general and family use in the market.

When burning BEACON LIGHT OIL do not use a wick that has been placed in any other oil.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

FIFTH SESSION.

MONDAY, Feb, 27.

Mr. Speaker took the chair at 2:05 p. m.

Rev. Mr. Jenns opened the proceedings with prayer.

THE REPLY.

Mr. McGillivray moved the address in reply to the Speech in the usual stilted and uninteresting form. It had been written out and he read it offhand. He thought the selection of Lieut. Governor well made from the ranks of pioneer citizens; that the country was to be congratulated upon the result of the mission to England; the statesmanship and diplomacy of the government were extolled; the claim of the country to the Island railway was a just one and he trusted the work would be completed and the province compensated for delays. He feared it would be some time before the thing was settled, but it should be kept before the Dominion and the public mind. He trusted the dock matter would be laid before the House in a satisfactory manner. He approved of the road contract system. The trunk road in New Westminster district was in a deplorable condition and ought to be repaired. The fishery interest was destined to be immense, and he hoped steps would be taken to move the Dominion government to protect that interest. The increased output of coal was a gratifying fact and he predicted great expansion. Of the exploration of the coal and arable lands he fully approved and he hoped to see the railway belt speedily thrown open. He spoke hopefully of the quartz mining interest, the only want being capital. He considered the present mining laws as "confusing" and was glad to hear that amendments were contemplated. The railway works had largely benefitted the agriculturalists, but the employment of Chinese labor was a great injury to the country. He condemned the condition into which the district roads had fallen and called on the government to improve the system. The assistance proposed to the provincial exhibition he warmly advocated. With regard to the courts' embroglio he regretted that the administration of justice was in an unsatisfactory condition. The Judicial Districts Act was a necessary and welcome measure to the country. Regret was expressed at the late Mr. Justice Robertson's death, and the want of a judge at New Westminster was greatly deplored. There must be something wrong that New Westminster was thus deprived of a judicial officer. He was glad to find a surplus. It spoke highly for the gentleman having charge of the finance department. Another gratifying feature was the fact that the provincial bonds were held at a premium. The death of President Garfield was a lamentable occurrence which shocked the whole world. (Hear.)

Mr. Helgesen seconded the address. The appointment of his honor as lieutenant governor was hailed with great satisfaction from all parts of the province. The delegate to London had secured the building of the Port Moody section; but the Island railway matter was not so bright. Petition after petition had been "graciously received" at London, but still the work was not begun. The resources of the Island were vast. Esquimalt harbor was one of the finest in the world and capitalists could not go wrong if they built a line to it. He was still in the dark as to where the line was to be built, but there would be no solid peace between the Dominion and province until that road had been built. He hoped the government would push on the drydock work; but he would await the production of correspondence on this point before expressing an opinion thereon. He regretted the absence from the speech of all reference to the seal fishing industry. After some further remarks on the address Mr. Helgesen sat down.

Mr. Smithe said he had listened attentively to the gentlemen who had just spoken and he must say he sympathized with them on having to stand before this assemblage and defend such a document as he held in his hand. He believed the hon. gentleman who moved the address was elected to oppose this government, that he did oppose it through two sessions; and then without giving any notice of changing sides he cast his vote with them without having given an iota of a reason for doing so; and now, to-day, he had stood up in the House as the first man to support their policy. [Mr. McGillivray attempted to speak, but was called to order.] He had given no reason for his change of side, but had risen and made a "most lame and impotent" defence of a very bad cause. He (Mr. Smithe) congratulated the country on the appointment of so popular a gentleman as the lieutenant governor. If the speech were read over carefully it would be seen that there was nothing but failure! failure! failure! There was no promise of what they intended to do except to take care of the judges. Virtually, they said they did not intend to do anything! The most important matter was the railway question. At the end of the last session a petition was drawn up and directed to be sent to the Queen. He had cast his vote in favor of that petition; but he asked the House to remember that he told the leader of the government that he doubted the utility of the petition. He asked to have the matter laid over for another day, but the request was denied. The hon. gentleman said, "You must take this or nothing." Although he (Mr. Smithe) had doubted the efficacy of the petition he had cast his vote for the document rather than stand in the way of the only plan the government had for settling the next question. It had been a failure—the speech confessed it. The matter was in a worse position than ever. The country was in a humiliating position. The chief acquirement of the mission was that we were told that Her Majesty had "graciously" received our petition -- v-e-r-y "graciously." (Laughter.) Lord Kimberley had expressed a mild opinion that we were entitled to the Island railway, etc. Lord Carnarvon, years ago, announced his conclusions emphatically. Lord Kimberley made a mistake in expressing himself as he had. Of course Her Majesty had accepted the petition graciously; but that was all. He would like to know what we would have to pay Mr. DeCosmos for getting Lord Kimberley's "opinion!" Lord Kimberley had merely expressed an opinion that we should have a "light line of railway from Esquimalt to Nanaimo." What was the meaning of a "light rail way?" He inferred that it meant a narrow gauge railway—built as cheaply as possible. That was a direct blow at the contention of this House that the Island railway was a part—a section of the overland railway with Esquimalt as the terminus. Could any one deny that the mission had been a failure? He (Mr. Smithe) would have been glad if the mission had not been a failure. That the Island railway would be built in the near future, he fully believed; the resources of the province were great and would tempt capitalists to build the railway, although the government have failed miserably. (Hear, hear.) The speech said that the questions relating to construction of the Island section and to compensation were under consideration; but the House was not told with whom they are under consideration. (Hear, hear.) Full information of the condition of the graving dock works is promised, but it should have been laid before the house—not left to to be drawn from the government at, perhaps, the tail end of the session. After remarking upon the fishery interest the leader of the opposition criticised the speech where it said that the output of coal fell below that of last year. He deemed this a most damaging statement to go abroad unaccompanied by the reasons which were a strike at Nanaimo and the receipt of large consignments of English coal at San Francisco. That reduced the demand for Island coal, but the government did not say so. It said that Nanaimo was going down. What other construction was to be placed on this clause? Nanaimo was placed by the speech in a false light before the world. Again, not a word was said in the speech about the marked improvement in the lumber trade which had taken place last year. A bill to consolidate the mining laws was promised; but there was no promise to amend those laws. The House was to be called to do departmental work. The speech foreshadowered nothing of practical good. Cariboo was mentioned as the only mining district in the province. Not a word about Kootenay or Cassiar. The House was not told if the inclemency of the weather affected mining enterprises in those districts. There was one thing the government could not help;—they could not help the prosperity of the farmers. (cheers and laughter). But the government had left the roads in a worst condition than ever before. If an election was not to be held soon there would have been no appropriation promised for a provincial exhibition; and speaking as a farmer he would say that if the exhibition was to be held every year at Victoria he could not vote for it. He had been instructed by his constituents to apply for aid for a Cowichan exhibition. In the provincial exhibition there was political capital for the finance minister He held a pretty close grip on the public purse, but when he was to be benefitted by the expenditure he could be generous enough (roars of laughter). If the outside districts could take advantage of the exhibition it would be of value to them; but it would be no good if the exhibition was to be conducted the same as it was last year. The embroglio with the Supreme Court he took to be a question between the judges and the attorney-general. The latter was the only lawyer on the floor of the House and the members had taken his pledge that the bills were wholly unconstitutional. He (Mr. Smithe) was not prepared to say who was right or who was wrong; but he (Mr. Smithe) was of opinion that nothing we might do here would not establish the constitutional rights of the province. Whatever we were entitled to we would get in the proper way. The matter was now in a position where it could be decided by proper authority. That proper authority was not, he believed, this house. Nothing that we might do would affect the question at all. The attorney-geneal had started the fight; let him carry it on. If he was right he would get the credit. If he was wrong he would still have the credit of having tried to secure what he (the attorney-general) considered the rights of the provinces. It was gratifying to hear that there was a surplus; but he regretted to find that that surplus had been obtained by neglecting the roads and bridges of the country, which were now impassable. Everyone deplored the assassination of President Garfield and trusted that providence would smile on the doings of this House. The paucity of previous speeches was then commented upon. The Opposition had passed previous attempts over in silence; but the present was the longest and at the same time the emptiest speech that had ever been laid before this house. (Cheers.) Judging from what is in the Governor's speech the members ought to be at home in one week from to-day. The government, he hoped, would explain why the House was called together at so late a season.

Mr. McGillivray said he was not returned to oppose the present premier. He was returned as an independent member to judge everything on its merits.

Mr. Smithe said the facts were well known to other gentlemen in the House and it was not necessary for him to comment further upon them.

Hon. Mr. Walkem said that if the hon. gentleman had known the leader of the Opposition as well as he did he would not have paid any attention to him He, referred to the Opposition as a corporal's guard and not a party. He believed the leader of the Opposition was ashamed of the speech he had just made. He (Mr. Walkem) thought when the leader of the Opposition was speaking that he was about to copy Oscar Wilde and say too utterly too too (laughter.) He charged that the leader of the opposition plagiarized from the Globe and Mail. With regard to a "light" line Mr. Marcus Smith had told him a "light" line might mean a narrow-gauge line on trestles or a standard guage line with a light equipment. He thought the allusion to the drydock might as well have been left out of the leader of the opposition's speech, and the government only told the truth respecting the coal. The provincial exhibition would be held at New Westminster next year, and he disclaimed the statement that the constitutional difficulty was one between the judges and the attorney-general. He had appeared as a friend of the court, and the question was one between the judges and this House. This was the only province in the Dominion that had no control over the judges. He made the statement upon the best authority. What steps the government would take in this matter would be made public at the proper time. If he were a private member of this House he would feel that the rights of the House and the people had been invaded. He proposed to assert those rights in a dignified way. He should be sorry if the matter degenerated into a personal quarrel. He did not say he was wholly right; but believed he would be borne out in many of the points he had laid down. These acts had passed under the scrutinizing eye of the minister of justice at Ottawa and had been allowed, and it was most strange that after having been in force four years the Act of 1878 was only now found to be unconstitutional. Correspondence regarding the residence of the judges at New Westminster would be laid before the House. He hoped and believed it would be decided that the Supreme Court was a Superior Court and that as such it was under the control of the legislature. In conclusion he said that the leader of the opposition adorned that side of the House and he (Mr. Walkem) intended to keep him there as long as he could.

Mr. Wilson had not heard any complaint that there was too much in the speech. He did not think that the member for New Westminster should have been attacked for moving the reply because it was so noncommittal. The leader of the opposition might have moved the reply himself without sacrificing principle. He agreed with the member for New Westminster that in a House so small as this and in a country where party lines did not exist, he might support some government measures and oppose others. Better men could not have been selected for the purpose. He (Mr. W.) believed that Mr. DeCosmos had succeeded and that Sir John Macdonald while in London last fall did give a pledge to Mr. DeCosmos that he would induce the syndicate to build the line; but the syndicate, in consequence of the extravagant report of a Mr. Ross who came out in their interest and because their bonds had not sold as rapidly in Canada as they had hoped, had declined to build the line. He, therefore, regretted that the seconder of the address had not done justice to Mr. DeCosmos. It was to be regretted that the seconder of the address had not recognized the success that had attended Mr. DeCosmos' mission. Than Mr. DeCosmos there was no man in the province who possessed such knowledge of the subject and such tenacity in pushing it.

Mr. Helgeson interrupted and said that he had given Mr. DeCosmos credit for indefatigability and for getting the Port Moody section constructed, and he wanted the hon. gentleman to take back his statement.

Mr. Wilson would do so when it had been shown that he was wrong. When the drydock correspondence was laid before the House he hoped there would be a more favorable showing for the government than now appeared; but he was sorry to hear that two gentlemen who had come out to assist in the vigorous prosecution of the dock had this day cleared out for America (laughter.) It was gratifying to know that the contract system had proved successful in spite of the opposition of the attorney-general; but he observed that one section had not been let. The value of the exports of the fisheries he thought was over-rated in the speech. He favored the exploration of arable and mineral lands and thought if more prominence had been given to agricultural interests in the speech it would have done no harm. The move in the direction of a provincial exhibition was a good one. The finance minister had been asked for $2,000, but only agreed to give $1,000. It was to be hoped that his colleagues would be more liberal than the finance minister was disposed to be. Exertions should be made to open up the agricultural lands and thus prevent the country from being peopled by Asiatics. The necessity of a handbook and map was next strongly counseled. The speech, he concluded, as an expression of the ministry, was not up to what he thought would have been made. (Laughter and hear.)

Dr. Ash hoped an address of welcome would be presented to the Lieut.-Governor and at the same time an expression should be made that the House would like to see his honor at Government House. The attorney-general was not the only person in the House who was competent to understand the constitutionality of an act. It had been said that this House was not the place in which to decide this matter. Papers are promised on the dock, the island railway and other matters, which ought to be here now.

The address was passed and referred to a committee for presentation

REPORTS.

Hon. Mr. Humphreys presented the annual reports on public schools and mines and the lists of voters.

Hon. Mr. Walkem presented the report of the Chief Commissioner and the Registrar General.

PRIVILEGE.

Hon. Mr. Walkem rose to a question of privilege. He said that he had stated in the House on April 30th, 1880, that 100 tons of cement might be required to complete the drydock. He made this statement on the authority of the resident engineer. In October, last year, the resident engineer had informed him that 190 tons more would be required, and again in November that 300 tons would be necessary, and in January of the present year for the first time on the report of the same officer the government learned that 4,400 tons were required.

Mr. Wilson—Has the officer been suspended?

Hon Mr. Walkem—You had better put the question in a proper form.

Mr. Smithe severely commented upon the conduct of the attorney-general in attempting to relieve himself of a serious responsibility by shifting it to the shoulders of a subordinate. He (Mr. Smithe) through the miscalculation of a subordinate officer had once made a statement that was inaccurate; although it did not affect the revenue of the country or take a single dollar from the treasury the leader of the government had never tired of twitting him with it. The present was not a question of privilege and the blame could not be cast on a subordinate in that way. The House was told on the very first day of the session that $150,000 in hard money was required to be paid by the province for cement, and the attorney-general had no right to cover himself under the privileges of the House.

Hon. Mr. Walkem said he had made a positive statement to the House and he had considered it his duty to rise at the first moment to correct that statement. He had taken this course so that it might not be said the information had been dragged from him. He did not propose to screen himself behind anyone.

Mr. Wilson asked if the 4,400 tons of cement included the 310 tons.

Hon. Mr. Walkem said it did.

Mr. Mara thought the objection was well taken. Before the address had been passed this statement should have been made. There was a question respecting the same matter on the notice board, and the attorney general had taken the proper course.

40-MILE BELT.

Mr. Armstrong moved that a respectful address be presented to His Honor the Lieut.-Governor asking that he may be pleased to have sent to the House copies of all correspondence between the government of the Dominion of Canada and the government of British Columbia, or any person acting on their behalf as agent or otherwise, respecting or in anywise affecting the 40-mile belt of land now held as a railroad or government reserve on the Mainland of B. C., from the time the Dominion Government made application to have said belt of land reserved for railway purposes.

The hon. mover referred to the serious injury that had been inflicted by the locking up of the land. He was not prepared to lay the blame on any person; but some one must be to blame.

Mr. Harris seconded and the resolution was carried.

GRAVING DOCK.

Mr. Wilson moved that a committee be appointed to enquire into all matters relating to the Esquimalt graving dock with power to call for persons and papers, and to report.

The hon. mover said that the statement of the leader of the government had rendered this committee all the more necessary. He proposed Messrs. Helgesen, Harris, Smithe, Ferguson and himself as such committee.

At the suggestion of the attorney general the name of Mr. Ferguson was struck out and that of Mr. Galbraith substituted.

NEW BILLS.

Mr. Walkem introduced a mineral bill and an act respecting courts.

QUESTIONS.

Mr. Ash asked is it the intention of the government to ask the House for an appropriation to repay the cost of the services of the judges who acted as commissioners in the Kootenay emquiry?

Hon. Mr. Beaven replied that the information would be given when the estimates were laid before the House.

Dr. Ash said that was no answer. He demanded something more definite.

Hon. Mr. Walkem said the hon. gentleman had no right to ask the question.

Mr. Smithe asked, has the government ordered cement for graving dock purposes to supplement the amount purchased in 1874, and stored since that time at Esquimalt; if so, how much, for what reason, and on what authority?

Hon. Mr. Walkem—Yes; 900 tons, because by the contract with Messrs. McNamee & Co. the cement was required. The order was given under authority of order in council under 42 Vic., chap. 20, and a warrant issued under 44 Vic. chap. 21. There are also about 45 tons yet to be obtained which was a loan to the Victoria corporation and which they have paid for according to agreement as they could not supply it.

Mr. Smithe asked, have you, in your capacity of Attorney-General of the Province, as law agent in this Province of the Dominion of Canada, or in any other capacity, made any recommendation to the Dominion Government or any member thereof relating to the vacant judgeship in this Province.

The hon. mover said that there was a vacant judgeship and that a telegram to the press had stated that the position would not be filled till the close of this session. As last session the Attorney General had stated that he had made certain recommendations to the Dominion government before Messrs. McCreight and Robertson were appointed he (Mr. Smithe) thought the question pertinent.

Hon. Mr. Walkem replied that in 1880 he had been invited to make certain recommendations and had done so. This year he had made none. With regard to being law agent for the Dominion he would say that in the last two years he had only been consulted with regard to two cases, and he believed that a firm of solicitors in Victoria acted as law agents for the Dominion. The question was one which partook strongly of impertinence.

House then adjourned till 2 o'clock Tuesday.

A PETITION.—Reference was made on Sunday last in all the Protestant pulpits of this city to a petition now being signed calling on the legislature to cause all saloons throughout the Province to be closed on Sundays. The petition has been numerously signed in New Westminster where Bishop and Mrs. Sillitoe, all the clergy, Roman Catholic and Protestant, the mayor and nearly all the city council took an active part in procuring signatures. Copies also have been sent to Nanaimo. His Lordship the Bishop of Columbia preached an eloquent sermon at the Cathedral on Sunday morning from the text 2 Mark, 27, "The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath," in which he spoke strongly on the drinking usages of society and the evils resulting from saloons being open on the Lord's day. Rev. C. Watson in the Methodist Church referred to the subject both morning and evening. He stated that committees had been formed to canvass the city for signatures and expressed the hope that all connected with his congregation would aid the movement as much as possible. The matter was also spoken of by Rev. Percival Jenns of St. John's Episcopal Church, by Bishop Cridge of the Reformed Episcopal Church, Rev. Mr. Stephen of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, by Rev. R. H. Smith of the Pandora street Presbyterian Church, and by Rev. Mr. Bevan of the Baptist Church. All will have an opportunity during the week of signing the petition.

WESTERN SLOPE. — The decks of this steamer present a busy scene. A large force of painters, machinists, and carpenters are at work getting the vessel ready for launching, after which she will return at once to the route.

What Some People Say.

That W. E. Sheridan, the actor, has gone to Australia.

That "Fun on the Bristol" will go to England in May.

That H. Mitchell has tested seeds on sale for 1882.

That M. Humber will have upwards of 3,000 flower-pots ready for delivery in about two weeks' time. Another leak will thus be stopped.

That a number of merchants paid duty on sheet tin, etc., on Friday last, the date on which the duty thereon was repealed.

That the Dominion Government having at heart the encouragement and development of the fisheries, will direct the collector to refund the amounts.

That Harry Simpson advertises the old-established Prairie Tavern for lease.

That there will be rare fun at the Spelling bee on Wednesday evening.

That a number of city grocers and wholesale merchants will compete for the first prize; that widows, widowers and grass widowers will compete for the second; that many young bachelors and old maids will try for the third, and old bachelors and young maids for the fourth. The hall will be crowded. The public should go early and get the front places.

That Messrs. Nish & Stewart, of the firm of McNamee & Co,. are on their way back to Ottawa.

That considerable progress has been made on the drydock during the past week.

That the lumber mills experience great difficulty in getting logs because of the bad weather and the depth of snow in the forests.

Those Buoys.

The unwarrantable attack of the local government organ upon Capt. Lewis, of the H. B. Co.'s steamer Princess Louise, has been so well punished by the Columbian as to leave little further to be said. It is necessary, however, that we should refer to the attempt the organ has made to relieve itself of responsibility by the statement that "the name of no captain was mentioned in the (his) article." As Captain Lewis commands the only steamer that has visited the Fraser river this winter, the paragraph pointed as surely to him as if he had been named. Said the clergyman at the prayer meeting, "If the girl who wears a blue dress and a yellow hat and sits in the front seat of the fourth pew from the door in the middle aisle does not stop laughing I shall point her out to the congregation." The Standard man, who has a "down on" Captain Lewis, for the reason probably that in common with two-thirds of this country, he does not take his paper, was quite as explicit as the clergyman in directing his malicious shaft, and even yesterday, when he had been apprised of his error and found that Captain Lewis did report the condition of the buoys nearly a month ago and that it was the agent of marine and fisheries who should have been blamed instead of the captain, he suppresses mention of the fact and fails to correct his first statement. But take it all in all, we do not think that Captain Lewis has much reason to complain of injury. The circulation of the Standard is so small, in spite of "a great offer" to bribe every new subscriber with a library of books "bound in fine (!) manilla" that we do not think a jury would assess the damages at a very high figure. It is some satisfaction, however, to expose a sneak, and this Captain Lewis has done.

Marine.

Steamship Idaho will sail for San Francisco at 3 p. m. to-morrow.

The barque Katie Irving, Capt. Scott, arrived on Sunday evening in Royal Roads, 30 days from Guayamas, to load lumber at Hastings mills for Adelaide, South Australia. She was taken up yesterday afternoon by the Pilot.

D. G. steamer Sir James Douglas will probably leave for the Sandheads to-day to look after the buoys there. She will then make the tour of the lighthouse and see that buoys are all in their places before returning to this port.

Italian barque Orco, Capt. Luigi Zino, arrived on Sunday evening in ballast for orders, 58 days from New Caledonia. Experienced clear weather for the first 10 days, then for about 25 days made from 200 to 225 miles per day. Rest of passage stormy and rainy.

Hatches were opened yesterday morning on barque Princess Royal and cargo found in excellent order. She immediately commenced discharging.

The barque Pacific Slope, Capt. Barnes, arrived from Honolulu on Sunday afternoon in ballast for Moodyville to load lumber. Destination not known at present. She went up last evening in tow of the Alexander.

More Bricks.

Mr. S. J. Pitts is clearing the old 1858 buildings from his lot on Yates street, opposite his present location. He will erect in their stead a two-story brick warehouse, having a frontage of 32 feet on Yates street with a depth of 90 feet, and another frontage of 35 feet on Waddington Alley, the building being L shaped. Plans are now being prepared and tenders will soon be called for. The buildings in course of demolition were considered "swell" affairs 23 years ago.

AN OTTAWA EXCLUSIVE.—The Standard charges that we placed an official telegram under the head of an exclusive dispatch from Ottawa and so published it. In the next column to the one in which this charge appears our contemporary appropriates the dispatch from this paper and prints it without due credit. This is adding insult to injury and again displays the sublimity of cheek for which the Standard has become noted. It equals, almost, its theft of the Globe cablegrams in August last and their publication as "exclusive cablegrams to the Standard."

FOOTBALL ON BEACON HILL.—Last Saturday the members of the Vancouver Athletic Club played their first game of football on Beacon Hill. The weather was fine and the ground in good condition. Judging from the form shown the club possesses plenty of good material, which only requires practice to convert it into a first-class team. There will be another game played next Saturday, when it is hoped there will be a more ready response on the part of members.

SMUGGLING.—Several important seizures have been made recently by our customs officers of smuggled goods, consisting of Chinese confectionery, opium, watches and jewelry, coffins and coffin trimmings, &c., valued at several thousand dollars. These goods have all been confiscated and will be sold at auction.

THE WEEKLY COLONIST.—The weekly edition of The Colonist will be on sale on Tuesday morning. Copies may be mailed by the outgoing steamer. For sale at The Colonist Stationery Store.

A Difficulty with the Mexican Customs Authorities.

Just before the British barque Katie Irving left Guaymas the Mexican custom house officers in looking through the vessel found some silk umbrellas and other articles which Capt. Scott had in his cabin, and jumping to the conclusion that they were to be landed, took possession and carried them off to the custom house. The captain, of course, followed them and protested against such conduct, contending that the goods were a portion of the ship's stores and as such the authorities had no business to interfere with them, as he had made no attempt to land them. After considerable detention the goods were all returned to the ship with the acknowledgement that they had been unlawfully seized. A present was made to the captain with the privilege of landing his silk umbrellas if he saw fit to do so by paying duty on them as cotton. This was accordingly done and the goods sold at a heavy profit.

Supreme Court.

(Before Sir M. B. Begbie, C. J.)

MONDAY, Feb. 27.

Murne vs. Morrison—Mr. Edwin Johnson for the plaintiff moved for an interim injunction to restrain Mr. James Morrison of New Westminster from registering a deed which he had obtained from the assessor of New Westminster District purporting to grant to him certain land of which the plaintiff is the registered owner. The case raises numerous interesting questions as to the validity of assessments and sales for taxes under the Assessment Acts. An interim injunction for one week was granted.

Heim vs. Morrison.—A similar injunction was granted in this case on the application of Mr. Johnson.

(Before the Full Bench.)

Counsel for the defence in the Thrasher case concluded their argument yesterday. Mr. T. Davie will reply to-day and the case will be submitted for judgment.

B. C. BEEF EXPORTED.—British Columbia beef on foot is likely to become an important article of export. By yesterday's steamer for Puget Sound Goodacre & Dooley shipped 14 head of bunch grass beeves to Port Townsend, where the superiority of provincial beef has long been understood and acknowledged. New markets are constantly opening for our products; but this last is an unexpected one.

OPPOSING SPIRITS.—The flag over government buildings hung at half mast yesterday afternoon during the session of the legislature. People were at a loss to understand the meaning of it. The explanation is—The spirits, foreseeing the doom of the ministry, took that means to apprise mortals of their impending demise. Thus "coming events cast their shadows before."

PERSONAL.—Mr. Percival Brown, late clerk at the customhouse, leaves to-day for Naas river, having accepted a position as bookkeeper in the cannery there. Mr. Brown will bear with him the best wishes of his many friends.

TESTED.—The boiler of the new steamer for the People's Line was tested to 175 pounds cold pressure. The machinery is now waiting in the Albion Iron Foundry for the completion of the hull.

POLICE COURT.—Two d. & d.'s were disposed of yesterday in the usual manner; and the obtaining money under false pretences case was remanded for one week.

THE steamer Grappler will sail to-day for the N. W. coast. She has a full freight and many passengers.

GAME goes "out" with to-day.

1882. VALENTINES. 1882.

The undersigned beg to announce that they have just received one of the most varied and elegant assortments of VALENTINES ever imported into this Province, which for beauty of design and elegance in workmanship far surpasses any heretofore received by us.

An early inspection is invited by

1mdw M. W. WAITT & CO.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

CHLORODYNE

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Advice to Invalids—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5th, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9., 4s 6d. and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
